[illegible] a [illegible] anima [illegible] corpus [illegible] nimia [illegible]
[illegible] anima [illegible] recipiat [illegible] Error Stahlianorum [illegible]
[illegible] quietis non habet [illegible] idem ut animus [illegible] definit ad sanitatem [illegible]

1. [illegible] nimius potus, qui suffocat △, & mucus generat & pallor. Talibus sudor abigit volatile spiritus a mucus residet, hinc pallor, [illegible], nulla spiritus, [illegible], ▽ & mucus, in anima [illegible] nulla.

2. Plethora, quae ô datur, ubi natura non plus quam ei opus est assumat, cetera cubra alvi dejectione expellat. Et si quid à cibis & potu nimis [illegible], sit id [illegible] resolutorum nimii, qui hinc illinc ad [illegible] [illegible] depellit vel alia viscera interna, [illegible] et relaxationes facit, [illegible] dyscrasia [illegible] [illegible] reddit, imprimis si △ [illegible] vomitu nimiam alvi dejectionem natura et [illegible] & [illegible] [illegible] copit ut motus anomalos destructores oeconomiam afficiat, & quod [illegible] & quoad externorum applicationem Nimis appetitus [illegible] vel ex alteri à [illegible] vel [illegible] [illegible] nimia [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] nimio à [illegible] [illegible]

3. [illegible] animales neglecti, hi n. △ & △ & phlegmatice [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] corpus & nervos [illegible] vadunt, omneque quod est tamen ▽ & [illegible] [illegible] debito fluore [illegible], [illegible] potissimum pabulo, [illegible] domicilio [illegible] [illegible]. Nisi ex multis antirrumeri & [illegible], qui [illegible] corpore vel putrefacto [illegible] tamen [illegible]

4. [illegible] stomacho [illegible] [illegible] est stomachi in quo [illegible] est & △ [illegible] [illegible] & ab ea [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] nimia copia in [illegible]. Vid. Recte e. tenend, status corporis et animae, et quid serviat conservationi in hoc statu misero et ut finem Dei-co componamur, ipse ab omnibus statis abstractione et Deo soli ut reliquamur toti. Ex quibus constat anima et corpus et quibus sustentatur, et restituitur debilia. Rationem tenen-neam et relativam mutuam medici bene facit et exspecto physicum. Sicuti quae vitis conservant, quae ad nimis in medio redigunt, ut semper corpus maneat aptum instru-mentum ad Dei gloriam in nobis et aliis radicandam et notiorem reddendam, ut vivat in nobis perfectus Deus in omnibus negotiis nos optime instruens ad agendum ejus voluntati conformiter ad nostram et omnium creaturarum salutem.
Nimius motus et dissipat, et nimia vita sedentaria figit, nimiis studiis extra corpus perscriben, vel elaborem de aliis aliis objectis intentum corpus formulatum relinquit, eundo producit effectum et augendo alterando et miscendo et toto.
Ipse in omnibus est proportio et harmonia servanda ex corporis et animae exigentia in statu qui nunc est hominibus in hoc orbe et implicatione conditionum a Deo et natura ordinatum et praescriptum ut sani maneamus affirmus, solida et fluida non sint ita quidem laxa ut restitutio impossibilis sit, sed una conservatur expedite per corpore. Et sic ergo in quovis homine temperantia et individu-ali dispositio solidorum et fluidorum et animae respicienda, ut naturae exigentiae satisfiat; sic ab eo est sanitas et vita maxima, si exigentia naturae Dei in pietate observetur, ad hoc sensu et corporis et animae prodest. Ex ea Dei optime sit verum omnium justum ordinem, quem factus est ordo omnis et rerum series universa, atque cum ergo conservatur et indutatur in melius.
Sublibus cibis et potu sublibus sit ..., bruta ergo aliis quae medicis utuntur cibis fiunt sagaciora callidioraque, sic et homo, si balsamicis, bilem augentibus oleosis et amaris alcalinis fixis et vola-tilibus ut et toto fixo et volatili, ut et emulsionibus, phlegmate ..., semper bonus servetur ..., et sic bene dicta non ad nimiam lentorem vel nimiam commotionem redigentur, ut solida remittant, spissaque hic illic admittant.

32. Dicit Stahl, ex sua theoria [illegible] rectè causat a motus solo fuit ceu ejus effectu sanguinis fluxus, calidas Ell. in morborum initio esse nocivas, quod non moveant sudorem ob [illegible] crudorum [illegible] fieri errorem naturae, quod hic potius putrefactio [illegible] incarceratur quae subtegit respirationem in pluribus morbis, ut fami congbirata ~~[illegible]~~ fixi frigida et sicca. At res ipsa [illegible], sic nec habitus morbi [illegible] Δci, qui certe moventur insensibiliter ex corpore; licet vomitio fiat sanguinis subinde in plerisque [illegible] si vires naturae sint tamen sequatur vel fluxus a despicit vel ad suppurationem. Si vero non sit, nec usio juvat, nec sua absorbentia a diaph. fixa nec [illegible] potius coagulans, et mortificans quam refricans. At phlebotomi [illegible] usui plus tribuunt atque par est. [illegible] habent hi nec [illegible] Δ [illegible] [illegible] vaporem, sed [illegible] vero vaporosa, vero crassa fluida oleum a [illegible]. [illegible] non habent. Calidis essentiis et fixi [illegible] sal semper sit nociva, nisi ex vera crassiori necessitate [illegible] 435 a oleum, et [illegible] morida, et [illegible] sal volatile sanguinis optime refundunt, a inter hoc [illegible] [illegible] naturale et pax et quies naturae restituantur. Quod sequatur in [illegible] morbis [illegible] praecepta utilissima, a revera [illegible] ipsi medici nil aliud dant in [illegible], a [illegible] curagunt, exsiccantia cor [illegible] vera a empirica, stultis [illegible] [illegible] non posse in principio [illegible] reduci. Morbi sit saepe mixti [illegible] in [illegible] hoc juvabunt juncta. Hoc vel illud plus minus pro morbi a corpori natura.

Et hic vapor nimis [illegible] [illegible] crassa [illegible] [illegible] at [illegible] major [illegible] ut saepe natura [illegible] non per dissolutionem vel inflammationem [illegible], quod sit solvendi. [illegible] enim [illegible] a plenis dispersos [illegible] debet [illegible] resolutis.

33. Sensus vitalis Stahlianorum. Hic mihi videtur esse sensus vitalis quando in suo corpore homo suam vitam cibo et potu hujus orbis sustentare debet, si non haec quae sibi necessario, et peculiari propter naturam impressione placeant, eligit et appetit, quae peculiari aversione adversa, adversatur, et haec ex idiosyncrasia et ideis impressis vitalibus ex semine et utero materno. Ex impressis adolescens accepta, usque ad appetitus fit domina et quasi in naturam abit. Tolerandus si bona et indifferens, si mala et animae noceat supprimenda paulatim ab inclinatione incipiendo et pabuli subtractione. Ad quod inclinatio naturalis est, plus minus, si varietate nimia et ex inclinatio impressis sustentatur et augetur, tales per vitae libertate [illegible] creantur, hisce labor corporis et animi pro revulsione rerum a genitalibus ad caput, et pro distributione aequali, debetur, his tempestive in quavis corp. et animo. Si minus sic fiat, et adolescant in vitiis, genio se tradant corruptori fructus ex indole sua fecerunt, augetur malum vitio educantium et hominis proprio jam vel multiplicanti vel non satis vigilanti et ruin Dei diabolo opprimenti, pravis et certaminibus depulsum. Hic optima corporis ex massa sanguinea portio indies ad vasa spermatica ruit et depellitur in fine quasi spontanee et necessario, ubi naturam vitiosa indoles inspectum abit, et fit quasi cloaca et sentina ceterorum ex iis partibus ut spermate inde a toto corpore infirmitate fiat mucidus et tenax, ut et immodicis quibus tenax tum est, ubi immodicum ingestionem mb. spiritibus et nutrientibus, quod tum intemperatam egestionem et rerum, expetunt cubiculum corpora vel varias hominum hypochondr. Accedit naturam in his si saepe vivere incipiant tamen quovis octiduo vel quatriduo. cerebro exigere egestionem spermati, et ante egestionem ut ante hominibus vel alvi depositionem male habere ubi et postea pallet sibi horis habet, at multis appetitu ciborum instituta est ab toto auctis et rerum jactura restituendorum. Hoc est talentum suum profundere immodice et concessis a Deo viribus male uti. Et in his et ea mala, valde depravata natura male agendo, fit ex sensu vitali cui mala a genio mala fit necessaria facta qui peccando peccat et tot fit peccaminosis actibus et cogitationibus. Nam nisi linquitur donec Dei ordine et vero sensu vitali ad generationem non ad friciem vitae longae conversa Dei utatur, et utatur recte distributis corpore et animo sapere discat, donec tandem multo labore vincatur una Dei ope depravatio corp. et mentis, velut si non plane corporis hic, spiritus tamen, qui sub specie correpti corporis

Ora hinc delicto modo et ordine pro nostri generatione ad hi bitam mala – fieri a sit delicti elementi usus determinet et finem an bona an mala dicenda –

Educationis mala et bona physica et moralis ad corpus et animum relative possunt ea planari Stahlianae paralis et naturalia moralia et physica ordinaria. Medicina animi et corporis utilis conatus hic esset.

47. Animae ἐνέργεια tantum non est a autocratia qualem faciunt, ubi nec destinatio finem quam definiunt. Nam Deus voluntatem suam anima formavit sibi corpus, et ipsa est extensa materialis & fines habet. Ultra destinationem suam si depravat corpus, eadem cogit, nec potest id restituere separato nimis, nec reparare. Nil in natura perit, ubi nec ex nihilo creatum, sed a Deo ipso fuit extensio ex qua mundum orbis fecit liberrima actione liberrimo. Eodem modo & anima sibi corpus fecit sed imperfectius quia sub peccati servitute est. Si nec anima impotens sit de extensa nec penitus & in essentia mutabilis sit, licet quoad speciem externam possit exaltari & depravari, addita luce & bono, & iis ablatis additoque [illegible] [illegible] & [illegible] luce & bono castrationibus per peccata malumque ipso nostro natales & morbis sicut res & corpus tabulosum [?]

Res animalis sit anima corporis cujus anima est res corporea rationalis, cujus res Dei, vel diaboli genii.

Anima fortis sustentat [corporis vita] [illegible] & ea ablata debilitat; animae anima addita = debilis post morbos varios.

Licet rationalis ut Stahl dicit, & provida corpori, tamen admittit status in corpore, in statibus vitalis non nullus est.

Stahliani [illegible] fert debilem [illegible] Patres, dando [illegible] generandoque non fatigant ut succumbat & incipiat, sed potest sine luce extincta [illegible] facile, quare postea [illegible] Stahliani, sed ob nimiam laborem nimium illatam vitae cessantis ἐνέργεια nimio immateriali tribuit. Quod res Stahliani [illegible] habent & sciunt per quam agit anima luminis, quaecunque agit in corpora. Hic lux vitae extinguitur per quam non agit.

Nam [illegible] se subtrahit nimio sese subducunt & magis laborant intemperantia & morbis, antea carni magis. Corporis externa vascula transeunt & obturant.

Nostra anima brutorum anima est excellentior gradu. Nec anima brutorum vel lapidum perit. Est nobis duas nobilis ex Deo, quae regit ignobilis animale quod est [illegible] in nobis ex Deo creato ut regant in nobiliori animale et [illegible] principio [illegible] in ignobilibus degens.

Animas vocet [?] [illegible] vehiculum suum potissimum. Vetus sunt unde exeuntes, sed ex Deo alto sub[illegible] tenebris immersae creant Elementis hisce inferioribus. Audiens ab anima destitut, [illegible] Dant ordinis generum gradus & subordinationis.

sic in natura est fundatio esse in nobis et anima et corpus   sed ex Deo et nova creatione habemus, est sic nostro realiter varias formas recipere apta indolem sed et naturam Dei accepisse, conformiter operando Dei voluntati sed sed sunt nobis appropriata et ingenita occulta generatione.   Ergo generatio vetus aliud plane est in anima et corpore in medio constituta et nec bonus nec malus, imo per generationem hanc post lapsum plane vitiatis appetitibus terrenorum et a Deo alienatis, quam generatio nova quae ex Deo est, et ex ceolis in nostro centro sese patefacit, ubi Deus rectum adorat et invenit, non in externis vetus adami theatris sensualibus.   Anima rationalis quidem sed realiter praeest corpori regendo licet bona licet mala in domo sit praedita; at nos ubi Deo est factus, hic ordinato et juste et anima et corpore agit, non potens tenebris nec affectibus depravatis et inclinationibus malis, cum Deus eum occuparit et malo locus non sit tenebris.

Finaliter natura in ubi hominibus, sed est mortuus, at postea labor factus absensus nisi et emendare, vel et debilitate corporis per haec locus concurrat ob necessitatem non ob justitiam, uti ex ulcere per passiones natura concurrat et aliter non possit. Licet non aliter: At in statu sano libere libero circulo regi nostro hic nec natura debeant humores nec quid in passione dedicari. Alias, pori, ut liber nature, est, sit eventus naturalis aliud non; dat per cuttem per abscessus ulcera per nisi praeternaturale.

nos noster sed anima et appetitus corporis crassi voluptates et animalium, item phantastica sed animae, et rationalis, ultimus est divina sed ex Deo est caput, et sic corpus anima et nos regit quae objecta quaelibet dat et quae recipit.

Nunc vero imaginationes et affectus et motus externi voluntarii sine impulsione passionum externarum sensualium agit: ut e. gr. harmonici soni, idque non ex natura harmonia quod in se suavitate praevalet. Hic natura patitur non agit, at agit postea, malo introducto ut labem abstergat in quem finem primario revertatur.
